

Debriefing the wall project

The wall is our project to make the new hot social media for the youth. We aim for people between 16-25. The wall will be our brand new image sharing platform. Here you will be able to share pics from your cat, your holiday or your family.

But you might be asking yourself? Why, why would anyone use this, there are already thousands of these sites out there. To you my friends I say because we aim to make it easy again. All the big platforms have tons of features and are all but simplistic. On our site you can like and comment. No fancy extra things that you won't use anyway.

We will check in with you every two weeks with a prototype. You will be able to see and test the prototype and if you have any questions or issues we can sit down together and see about answering and/or solving them. We will be working with a planning with which you can see exactly what we plan on doing every week.

We won't be happy until we've built the best website that we possibly could and most importantly until we have built the website that you want.

Kind regards,
The Gato team.
